http://www.rutlandherald.com/articles/vt-man-accused-of-leaving-fake-trooper-message/

Vt. man accused of leaving fake trooper message

The Associated Press
Aug 26, 2013

READSBORO - A Vermont man in an ongoing feud with his neighbor has been accused of leaving him a phone message in which he pretended to be a state trooper. State police listened to the voice message left for 64-year-old Joseph Mangiacotti in Readsboro. They determined the caller was not a trooper. They later traced it to 30-year-old Justin Gamache, his neighbor. Gamache was arrested last week on a charge of impersonating a police officer. It was not immediately known if he had a lawyer.